

PR & marketing executive

 Please note we have two PR & marketing executive vacancies. One for immediate start and one to start during summer 2021 (post-graduation). Salary dependent on experience. Please include your start date availability in your application. ***

Pinstone have a proven track record of hiring graduates and developing their careers, with nine of the current team joining straight from University over the last 11 years.

We are a creative and forward-thinking public relations agency specialising in food, farming and rural industries and due to business growth, we are seeking two PR and marketing executives to join our team.

In the role you will be part of a team that supports our client activities from producing written articles for leading publications to developing social content. Whether you are creative or scientifically minded the role will be shaped to suit you.

We are looking for a team player, with strong listening skills and the confidence to apply initiative.

As a PR and marketing agency specialising in the agri-food supply chain, an affinity to the rural sector is a must. Experience or qualification in agriculture is an advantage.

If you're looking to work for a successful and growing agency at the forefront of our industry sector, be part of a dynamic team, and have the chance to work on an enviable portfolio of clients, then we'd love to hear from you.

Please apply by sending your CV and a covering letter to helen@pinstone.co.uk. If you have any questions about Pinstone or the role, please email Helen.
